Health care provides many opportunities for employment. Health Careers students have the opportunity to obtain multiple certifications in many health care areas that could help ensure their employability.

Careers in health care make up one of the fastest growing areas of the job market today. The Health Careers pathway offers career majors that could be a life-long career or a jump-start to a variety of advanced health care degrees.

High school students can obtain a lab science credit toward graduation requirements.

Certifications are available and may require testing fees and other prerequisites.

Prerequisites and physical requirements may be necessary to participate in this career pathway. Call the Red River Technology Center counselor at 580-255-2903, ext. 230, or visit the website at www.rrtc.edu.
